

Universal healthcare system covers Port Said students

All students residing in Port Said can access the services of the universal healthcare system. Before that, students could only have access to a limited number of hospitals.