

Health Insurance Organization: Breast cancer screening costs EGP 50 for uninsured women

The Health Insurance Organization said women without health insurance coverage will be charged a reduced fee of EGP 50 for conventional breast cancer screening and EGP 300 for a mammogram test. More than 1,000 women were screened for breast cancer, of whom 11 were diagnosed with the disease.