

Germany's Boehringer Ingelheim opens new office in Cairo

Boehringer Ingelheim has inaugurated its new office in Cairo. The company has had a presence in Egypt through a scientific office, and its new office marks the launch of its new commercial, legal entity in the country. The German drugmaker started operating in Egypt in 1961.