

Finance minister: Temporary measures to collect companies' contributions to universal healthcare system

The lack of a specific definition of the term “revenues” in the universal healthcare law has created difficulties in collecting contributions from companies, the finance minister said, adding that temporary taxation measures were put in place until Parliament amends the law.