

New General Authority for Accreditation and Health Control board formed

The Prime Minister has announced the formation of a General Authority for Accreditation and Health Control board, which will be responsible for hospital accreditation and the implementation of the universal healthcare system. The nine-member board will run the agency for four years.