

Entresto shortage puts lives of one million heart failure patients at risk

Many heart failure patients suffer from either or both the unavailability and high price of the Novartis Entresto drug, which costs EGP 1,200 per pack but has also been in short supply across the country.