

Egyptian drug cuts osteoarthritis treatment time by two-thirds

Egyptian researchers have developed a new drug that reduces the length of treatment for osteoarthritis from 12 weeks with common drugs to four weeks.