

Universal healthcare system: 1st open-heart surgery carried out in Port Said

A team of six surgeons has carried out the first open-heart operation in Port Said after the launch of the universal healthcare system. Officials said that five hospitals and 18 family medicine units have been added to the new scheme.