Finance ministry: Universal healthcare system offers high-quality service to citizens

In a report on the first 100 days of the universal healthcare system test run in Port Said, the health ministry revealed that 514,000 individuals and 158,000 families have registered for the new scheme so far. The governorate's outpatient clinics have received 156,883 people and 7,224 surgeries have been carried out, it added. Separately, the finance minister is scheduled to inaugurate the universal healthcare authority's headquarters in Cairo this month.
