

Universal healthcare system covers 90% of medication costs

The universal healthcare system in Port Said will cover 90% of medication and medical test costs, and 100% of the cost of chronic disease and cancer drugs, for about 920,000 residents. Under the new system, patients will have access to up to 210 medicines.