

Novartis launches Heart Care initiative to support heart failure patients

Novartis and the Egyptian Society of Cardiology have launched an initiative called Heart Care to raise awareness of heart failure. The initiative seeks to educate patients on the importance of heart failure management in improving quality of life and reducing hospital readmission rates.