

MoH drugs in short supply drop to 121

Drugs in short supply have fallen to 121 in November versus 154 medications in the previous month, according to a Ministry of Health official. The official indicated that the ministry seeks to detect and monitor any possible shortages in medicines. The ministry will also review pricing schemes, taking into account inflation rates.