

WHO: Egypt's Universal healthcare scheme benefits underprivileged individuals

The World Health Organization supports the universal healthcare system, its representative in Egypt said, indicating that the new law offers full healthcare coverage for all Egyptians and benefits underprivileged individuals by offering affordable, high-quality care.