

Universal healthcare system put on hold; drug prices going up; MoH budget inadequate

The Ministry of Health is struggling to launch the universal healthcare scheme. The ministry is still upgrading its hospitals and building new facilities, but has not disclosed when the new system would be rolled out.