Over 2,000 runners 'Run Against Cancer' in SODIC West

In an energetic and lively atmosphere, over 2,000 runners participated at the "SODIC and Baheya Run Against Cancer" on 30 October in SODIC West. The 6 km run, which was arranged in collaboration with Cairo Runners, helped raise more than EGP 137,000 for Baheya Cancer Hospital, as well as awareness about breast cancer and the importance of its early detection. Following the run, a celebration was held at the Westtown Hub, where the total amount of money raised for Baheya was announced.

This is the second year SODIC and Cairo Runners held a charity run, with last year's run having been dedicated to building and operating a school in Ezbet Khairallah. The run comes as part of SODIC's continuous social responsibility efforts and is one of SODIC Sports initiatives.

Baheya is the first hospital in Egypt and the Middle East to specialise in breast cancer early detection and treatment, where all services at the hospital are free and are extended to all women who enter the premises.
