

Men more vulnerable to coronavirus infection

More men than women seem to contract coronavirus, several recent studies of patients at the heart of the outbreak suggest. Among the Wuhan University hospital patients documented in one study, 54% were men. Another earlier study of hospitalized patients was made up of 68% men. A study of 138 of the earliest coronavirus patients admitted to a hospital in Wuhan found that 54.3% were men