

MoH deploys barcode technology to end drug counterfeiting, monopoly, and smuggling

The Ministry of Health will pilot test the barcode technology in three factories, two distributors, and some pharmacies as part of its anti-counterfeiting measures. The new barcode scanning system will be in place towards the end of 2019.